THE
CAMBRIDGE DIRECTORY
AND C.R.
ALMANAC FOR 1850.

BY JOHN FORD,
PUBLISHER OF THE CAMBRIDGE CHRONICLE.

CAMBRIDGE:
PRINTED AT THE CHRONICLE OFFICE.
1850.

PREFACE.

We are now enabled to present to our fellow citizens and the public the third number of the "Cambridge Directory and Almanac." Several important additions have been made, and improvements adopted, which, we trust, will be satisfactory to our patrons. Two or three items are worthy of notice.

The statistical matter presented on our Calendar pages relate exclusively to incidents in the history of Cambridge, and were prepared expressly for this work. The concise history of our Schools and Schoolhouses will, we doubt not, be found highly interesting. The detailed account of the Schools in the third Ward was prepared by J. S. LADD, Esq., of the School Committee, and embodies an amount of highly valuable and useful information.

We have been at considerable pains to prepare the sketches of the different religious Societies, places of worship, &c. We acknowledge our indebtedness to the several clergymen and others, for the facilities and information furnished us; and we only regret that time and space does not allow us to present a more detailed history. From some of the societies we have been unable to obtain the necessary facts, which accounts for their non-appearance.

The utmost care has been made use of in obtaining the names of the citizens, and no pains has been spared to render the "Directory" as complete as possible. An improvement has been adopted in the alphabetical arrangement of the given names, which will be found to add greatly to the convenience of the work. So far as we have been able to obtain them, we have inserted the places of business of those doing business in Boston. We cannot flatter ourselves there are no omissions or errors; but we can say we have taken all reasonable care to prevent them.

We have been at great expense in preparing our Map, as also other portions of the work; and it is hoped our citizens will feel the importance of sustaining our enterprise by a liberal and extensive patronage.

Cambridge High School. Amory Street.

This School was organized on the 4th of Oct. 1847, in the building now occupied by the Broadway Grammar School. Previous to that period instruction in the Latin, Greek and French languages had been given in one of the Grammar Schools in each Ward. On the 27th June, 1848, the building now occupied by the High School was completed and dedicated by appropriate exercises. It is built of brick, two stories high, with a basement. On the first floor are two rooms, one of which is used for a Mixed School, the other is used in connexion with the High School. The second story is for the exclusive use of the High School. It is approached by two flights of stairs from the two entrances on Amory street. In the main room are seats for 108 scholars. There are two recitation rooms, and a room neatly and conveniently fitted up for the Philosophical and other apparatus, and for a Library for the use of the school. The number of scholars at the opening of the new school house was one hundred and eight. In the September following thirty-one additional scholars were admitted. At the annual examination for admission in July 1849 upwards of seventy scholars were received—the present number belonging to the school is one hundred and fifty-three.

The following are the names of the teachers who have been employed in the High School since its establishment with the dates of their appointment. Elbridge Smith, Sept. 1847. Miss Nancy W. Manning, Sept. 1847. Miss Abbie Dalton, April, 1848. Thomas Chase, Sept. 1848. Eliza C. Bubier, Sept. 1849.

Miss Dalton was appointed teacher in the Quincy School, in Boston and resigned her situation in the High School in March, 1849. The course of study in the High School is both English and Classical. It is believed that the scholars who have gone from this school to Harvard College have compared favorably in their examination for admission with those from any other school in the State. The facilities for acquiring an English or Classical education in this school are certainly great. The apparatus, though not complete is far superior to that possessed by any school in Boston or its vicinity. The city has given $700, for the purchase of apparatus and this amount has been increased from other sources to $1500. This apparatus is of the very best character and in the very best order.—The Library of the Master is open for the use of the pupils. The number of volumes to which they may have access is about 500. No other school in the State can compare with the Cambridge High School in this respect, unless it be the Latin School in Boston. In addition to these advantages the gentlemen connected with the University have expressed their willingness to maintain a course of weekly lectures in the High School. Prof. Agassiz is at present lecturing in a most able and interesting manner upon Natural History. With proper attention we see no reason why the Cambridge High School may not rank among High Schools as Harvard College does among Colleges. It certainly ought to do so.

The following history of the Schools in the Third Ward was prepared for the Directory by J. S. LADD, Esq.

No PROVISION for public school instruction was made by the town, for that section of Cambridge now designated as the third Ward, till the year 1813, when the sum of $50 was granted “for the object of providing a school at Lechmere Point.” The school was taught by Miss Lumas, in the brick building, which is now standing on the northerly side of Bridge street, near the line of the Boston & Lowell Railroad. - The School Committee for that year consisted of Messrs. Abiel Holmes, John Mellen, Royal Makepeace, James Chaplin, and Abel Whitney. At this period the population at Lechmere Point did not exceed twenty families. No further appropriation was made for school purposes, in this part of the town, till 1815, when the sum of $50 was again granted. In July, 1816, the School Committee were "authorized to hire a female teacher for Lechmere Point, until the 1st day of November" in that year. The population of this section was now rapidly increasing, and the disadvantages of its isolated position became more apparent. The inhabitants repeatedly urged their claims upon the town for more ample facilities for the education of their children,—and in May, 1817, a report of the Selectmen, recommending "the erection of a School District at Lechmere Point," was accepted by the town, and $100 appropriated "for the support of a school that season." The boundaries of the District, however, were not defined until June, 1818, when "all that part of the town of Cambridge lying north of Broad Canal, and east of North Canal and the creek leading therefrom to Miller's River," was established as the fifth School District of Cambridge. The appropriation for "schooling at Lechmere Point," in 1818, was $150. The town also granted $100 towards the erection of a schoolhouse; and, in the same year, the District having raised an additional sum for the same object, a one story building, 42 feet by 22, was erected on a lot of land on North Third street, presented to the District by the Lechmere Point Corporation. This building was occupied as a schoolhouse during a period of thirty years, till 1848, when it was disposed of by the city. It had long borne the marks of a troublous history, and its demise excited no profound sentiment of regret.

The first Grammar School in the District was established in 1819, under a vote of the town,—“that the fifth School District be furnished with six months schooling of a grammar master, or its equivalent, annually.” The school was placed under the charge of Mr. Jonas Green, a graduate of Harvard College, and now a physician residing at Philadelphia. From the date of its establishment till the autumn of 1836, the Grammar School was taught in the Third street schoolhouse. During the interval between 1819 and 1824, the call for “more schooling” was occasionally heard from the fifth District, and, in the latter year, “twelve months of man school, and three and a half months female school” were granted by the town. An annual female school was established the following year, and the sum of $550 was appropriated for the erection of a new schoolhouse in the District. A handsome two story building, 42 feet by 23, with a cupola, was erected the same season, on the site now occupied by the brick schoolhouse, at an expense, including the land, of $1469 18. The room in the second story, however, was not finished and permanently occupied as a schoolroom till 1829. This, for several years, was the best schoolhouse within the limits of the town, and its erection was highly creditable to the public spirit of the inhabitants of the fifth District. It was removed in 1847 to its present location on Third street. Pursuant to the recommendation of a report, presented to the District by the Hon. William Parmenter, in 1827, provision was made, by subscription, for "an auxiliary school, to be kept three months, for the instruction of the small children, who were entitled to attend the public schools." The classification of the rudimental and primary scholars, thus for the first time suggested, now forms a prominent and peculiar feature of the school system of Cambridge.

"An additional annual female school" was organized in 1829. On the 1st day of May, in that year, the number of children in the town, between the ages of 3 and 17 years, was 1547,—of which 557 belonged to the fifth District. It is to be regretted that no earlier record of the statistics of the District can be found. In 1834, in compliance with the request of the inhabitants of District No. 5, the three schools were "divided into three grades, and the males and females were classed together in each school." This was the introduction of that system of gradation, peculiar to the schools of Cambridge, to which, in no inconsiderable degree, their success must be referred. From this period the "Middle School" begins to be recognized. A measure was adopted by the town the same year, which has eminently promoted the prosperity of the public schools. The District system was abolished, and the town was divided into three Wards, as at present constituted. All prudential duties relating to the schools subsequently devolved upon and were performed by the School Committee. The necessity of further accommodations in this Ward, again became pressing, and, in August, 1836, the School Committee were authorized "to erect another Primary schoolhouse at East Cambridge." A lot of land on Thorndike street, containing 6000 feet, was purchased for $900, and a one story building, 40 by 26 feet, was erected, the succeeding autumn, at an expense of $1126 82. It was raised an additional story in 1840, at an expense of $564 51.

In February, 1837, a new Primary School was opened in the third Ward; and in the spring of 1838, a school was established, "designed to be preparatory to the Primary." This was the first school of the Alphabet grade instituted by the School Committee of Cambridge. This is an important epoch in the history of the schools. A High School for the town was organized at Cambridgeport, in December, and Classical and High School instruction, for the first time, brought within reach of the advanced scholars of the third Ward. The institution of the Board of Education in 1837, and the Statute of 1838, requiring School Committees to make full and specific reports of the schools under their supervision, infused all the elements of progress with new life. Henceforth our school annals are embellished by the introduction of successive improvements in the means of instruction, and for promoting the physical comfort of the children.

In the autumn of 1838, the Sub-Committees were "authorized to furnish backs to the seats in the schools, whenever deemed by them expedient;" and in the succeeding year the order was made imperative, "that backs to the seats in all the schoolhouses" should be furnished. Chairs were substituted, in the place of plank benches, in the Grammar and Middle Schools in 1840.

Previous to 1839, the annual statistics of the schools have not been preserved. On the 1st day of May, in that year, the number of children in the town, between the ages of 4 and 16 years, was 2015,—of which 702 belonged to the third Ward. Another Middle School was established in the autumn of 1840, and a second Alphabet School the year following. Outline maps, for illustrating the study of geography, were provided for the Grammar Schools in 1842; but globes were not generally introduced previous to 1848. The Otis schoolhouse, on Otis street, was completed in the spring of 1843, at an expense of $5406 78. It is a fine two story building, 50 feet by 42, containing three airy, commodious schoolrooms. The Grammar School was removed to the new building, and a High School department, in connection with it, was organized. This arrangement continued till the establishment of the Cambridge High School, in 1847. An additional Middle School was opened in 1844, and in March, 1845, the Putnam Grammar School was organized, with seventy scholars, under the present excellent master. One of the Primaries was discontinued the same season, but a third Primary was again established in 1848.

The Putnam schoolhouse was completed in 1848, under the superintendence of Mr. Isaac Melvin, and dedicated, with appropriate ceremonies, in June, of the same year. The expense to the city, including the land, paving the sidewalks, ornamenting the grounds, and furnishing the rooms, was $15,018 76. It is a magnificent brick structure, 70 feet by 50, three stories high, situated on the most elevated site in the third Ward. Its name is commemorative of the fortification which in 1775 was erected on the same location, and designated by the name of the Revolutionary hero, Gen. Putnam. The internal arrangement of the building is in accordance with a plan furnished by the School Committee. In its architectural proportions, its various conveniences, and general adaptation for the purposes for which it was designed, this schoolhouse may be justly regarded as a model of its kind, uniting all the substantial improvements, that experience and science have pointed out. Two of the apartments in the basement story are occupied by Primary schools; the third is used as a Ward room. The second story, which accommodates the Putnam Grammar School, contains, besides the spacious school apartment, two recitation rooms, two ante rooms, and one for apparatus. Designed to supply the prospective, as well as the immediate wants of the Ward, this building will furnish ample accommodation for 550 scholars.

The number of children in the city between the ages of 5 and 15 years, on the 1st day of May last, was 2952, of which 929 belonged to the third Ward. The number attending the several schools, the third quarter of 1849, was 854:—High School, 26;—Grammar, 213;—Middle, 161;—Primary, 212;—Alphabet, 242. Of the character of the schools of this Ward it is sufficient to say, that they hold no second rank among the kindred institutions of the city.

CHURCHES IN CAMBRIDGE.

First Parish in Cambridge.

North Avenue, cor. Church street.

REV. WM. NEWELL, Pastor.

The First Church in Cambridge was gathered on the 1st day of February, O. S. 1636. It appears that in 1632, there was "built the first house of worship, with a bell upon it." On the 11th of October, 1633, Mr. Thomas Hooker and Mr. Samuel Stone were ordained, the one as pastor, and the other as teacher of the congregation at "Newtown," as Cambridge was then called. Mr. Hooker soon asked and obtained permission to remove to Hartford with his people, where he settled. In the year 1636, the first permanent church was gathered, and Mr. Thomas Shepard was ordained as pastor.

The house above referred to was situated on the west side of what is now called Dunster street, a little south of its intersection with Mt. Auburn street. About the year 1650, this house was removed, and a new one "about forty feet square," erected on "Watch House Hill." This locality is supposed to be nearly opposite the head of Dunster street, and between the President's old mansion and the Dane Law School. This site was occupied by the two succeeding meetinghouses, and until the erection of the present one in 1833. In 1706, the second house was taken down, and the third erected, which remained until 1757, when the fourth house was built. The present house, which is the fifth, was dedicated on the 12th of December, 1833.

The ministers of this Parish, from its organization to the present time have been as follows:—

Thomas Shepard, settled——1636, died Aug. 25, 1649, aged 44.
Jona. Mitchell, settled Aug. 21, 1650, died July 4, 1668, aged 43.
Urian Oaks, settled Nov. 8, 1671, died July 25th, 1681, aged 50.
Nathaniel Gookin, settled Nov. 15, 1682, died Aug 7, 1692, aged 34.
Wm. Brattle, settled Nov. 25, 1696, died Feb. 15, 1717, aged 55.
Nathl. Appleton, settled Oct. 9, 1717, died Feb. 9, 1784, aged 91.
Timothy Hilliard, settled Oct. 27, 1783, died May 9, 1790 aged 44.
Abiel Holmes, settled Jan. 25, 1792, dismissed June 8, 1829.
Wm. Newell, settled May 19, 1830.

The present number of communicants is 106. In addition to the Sunday School library, there is a Parish library for adults, commenced in 1839, which now numbers about 900 vols.

First Church & Shepard Congregational Society.

Mt. Auburn Street, cor. Holyoke.

REV. JOHN A. ALBRO, Pastor.

This Church, which was the first permanent Church in Cambridge, and the eleventh in Massachusetts, was organized on the first day of February, O. S. 1636. It was connected with the first Parish until the 19th of May, 1829, when a separation took place; the Church with the pastor and deacons, holding religious services at the Court House, until their present house of worship was completed.

In November of the same year, the Church united with the "Shepard Congregational Society" which had been organized a short time previous.

The pastors of this Church, were the same as those of the first Parish, until the period of the separation. Rev. Abiel Holmes D. D. continued pastor until the time of his death, June 12th 1837. The corner stone of the present house of worship was laid, with appropriate ceremonies, on the 21st day of September, 1830, and dedicated on the 23d of February, 1831. The stone contains a silver plate, inclosed in a leaden box, with this inscription:

Christ Church—Episcopal.

Garden street.

REV. NICHOLAS HOPPIN, Pastor.

Christ Church was founded 1750, by members of the Church of England residing in Cambridge, with the aid and patronage of the English "Society for the propagation of the Gospel in Foreign parts."

The Church was first opened for divine service, Thursday, Oct. 15, 1761, when Rev. East Apthorp, D. D. (afterwards rector of St Mary Le Bow, London,) first missionary of the the society, preached from Acts ii. 42.

The following inscription was placed on a corner stone of the church.

Deo Aeterno, Patri, Filio, Spiritui S. Hanc Aedem, Sub Auspiciis Illustriss Societatis, Promovendo Evangelio in Partibus Transmarinis, Institutæ. Consecrabant, Cont ibrigienses Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ Filii, in Christianæ Fidei Et Charitatis Incrementum; A. D. MDCCLX. Provinciam Procurante, V. Cl. Francisco Bernardo.

(The plan of the church was furnished by Mr. Harrison, then residing at Newport R. I., the architect of King's Chapel, Boston, and of the Redwood Library at Newport.)

Mr. Apthorp was succeeded in 1757 by Rev. Winwood Serjeant, who was rector till about the beginning of the Revolutionary war: after which the church was closed till the year 1790. It was then repaired, and, on Wednesday the 11th of July in that year, was reopened, with a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Parker, of Trinity Church Boston; who also accepted the rectorship of this parish, on condition of supplying it by a curate, and officiating occasionally himself. During the first quarter of the present century the church was served by different clergymen and readers: among whom were the late Rt. Rev. Dr. Dehon, Bishop of South Carolina, Rev. Dr. Jenks of Boston, and the Rev. Dr. Wainwright of N. York.

In 1826 the building was again repaired, (the corporation of the University generously contributing three hundred dollars,) and Rev. George Otis, A. M. tutor in the University, officiated till his death in 1828. The next rector was Rev. Thomas W. Coit D. D. from 1829 to 1835, who was followed by Rev. Mark Anthony De Wolfe Howe, D. D., 1835 and '36, and the Rev. Thomas H. Vail, A. M. from 1837 to 1839; when the present incumbent entered upon his duties.

The number of communicants is eighty one.

Horace Hanford, Sexton, resides Garden street.

Old Cambridge Baptist Church.

This church was constituted, Aug. 20, 1844. It consisted of eighty-seven persons, nearly all of whom were dismissed from the church at Cambridgeport. Religious services were first held in Lyceum Hall, Aug. 11th, 1844, in which place the society continued to meet for more than a year. In the mean time an edifice was erected on land obtained of Harvard College Corporation, and was dedicated Oct. 23d, 1845. On the same day, the first pastor, Rev. E. G. Robinson, was installed. Mr. Robinson resigned Sept. 23d, 1845. Rev. B. I. Lane was installed Dec. 30, 1845. Resigned April 1, 1849. The church continues at present without any pastor.

Francis R. Trow, Sexton, resides Mt. Auburn street.

St. Peter's Church--Roman Catholic.

MANASSES P. DOUGHERTY, Pastor.

The corner stone of the house of worship of this church was laid, according to the rites of the Roman Pontifical, on the 12th day of July, 1848, by the Bishop of the diocese. In the corner stone was deposited a metal box containing copies of various papers, several ancient and modern coin, and a parchment with a Latin inscription.

The church was first opened for religious services on the 1st of January, 1849. Number of communicants, 500. The edifice is of brick, on a beautiful and conspicuous site, and is quite an ornament to that section of the city.

Cambridgeport Parish.

Austin street.

J. F. W. WARE, Pastor.

In 1805, the spacious brick edifice originally used by the Cambridgeport parish was erected by the Cambridgeport Meetinghouse corporation, which had been chartered the previous year for the purpose. It was situated on a square of land containing about two acres, which was laid out by the corporation for public uses, between what is now called Broadway and Harvard street. It was furnished with (what was then called) a large, elegant organ and a bell. This house was dedicated Jan. 1, 1807. Sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. A. Holmes. July 14th, 1809, a church was gathered and organized on the principles of the Congregational churches of New England. January 19th, 1814, the Rev. Thomas B. Gannett was ordained the first pastor of the society and continued in that capacity until May 1st, 1833. Nov. 9th, 1833, the old house was partially unroofed in a severe storm, and was not deemed worthy of repair; and the society worshipped in the Town house until their new house on Austin street was ready to be occupied, which was in Oct. 1834. Jan. 1st, 1834, the Rev. A. B. Muzzey was installed as pastor; services took place in the Baptist church. He remained until May 1st, 1846.

The present pastor, Rev. J. F. W. Ware, commenced his labors Nov. 29th, 1846. Thus it will be seen that from the date of the settlement of the first pastor in 1814 (a period of thirty-six years,) there has been but a little more than a year that the society has been without a settled minister. In 1842, galleries were added to the house. In 1844 a commodious vestry was erected at a cost of about $1000. There is a library connected with the parish containing several hundred volumes, which is free for all the members of the society.

Amos Munroe, Sexton, resides Auburn near Pearl street.

First Baptist Church.

Magazine, junction of River street.

JOSEPH W. PARKER, Pastor.

Meetings of the "professed friends of Christ of the Baptist denomination" were held, mostly at private houses, during the larger part of the year 1816. In the spring of 1817, measures were taken to erect a place of worship and to constitute a church. On the 25th of December, 1817, the present house of worship was dedicated and the church publicly recognized. Sermon by Dr. Baldwin, of Boston.

The property is owned exclusively by the church, and the act of incorporation was approved Feb. 8, 1819. The first pastor, Rev. Bela Jacobs, was installed July 18, 1819. Some time during the year 1819, the bell was placed in the tower. In 1826, an organ was introduced, the first, it is believed, used in any Baptist church in this vicinity. In the summer of 1827, the house was enlarged by the insertion of a length sufficient for two windows in the centre.

May 7th, 1833, Rev. Bela Jacobs resigned his charge, and the Rev. Stephen Lovell was installed March 18th, 1834. He resigned May 15th, 1836, and the present pastor was ordained on the 11th Dec. of the same year.

In Feb. 1821, several members were dismissed to aid in forming a church in Roxbury. June 1st, 1828, several others were dismissed to aid in forming a church in Brookline; April 15th, 1830, still others were dismissed to aid in forming a church in Watertown; and Aug. 16, 1844, 85 were dismissed to form a church in Old Cambridge.—The present number is 260.

HOPKINS CLASSICAL SCHOOL.

ON

DANA HILL.

The design of this School is, not only to prepare boys for College, but also to fit them for any of the various departments of life. The school has now been under the charge of its present instructor for more than eight years, during which time, more than thirty of its pupils have been prepared for College, and many others have entered upon mercantile and scientific employments.

The very liberal patronage hitherto bestowed, is a flattering testimony that the efforts made to produce a School of the highest order, in all its influences, have not been unappreciated.

By untiring devotion to his duties, and the employment of able and faithful assistants, the subscriber hopes to merit and receive a continuance of public favor. Parents entrusting their children to his care, for education, are assured that all the influences, moral and intellectual, to which they may be subjected shall be of the highest order.

The arrangements of the School are such, that each pupil will be advanced as rapidly as he is prepared for it; and no one will be suffered to become disheartened, by being retarded in all branches because he may happen to be dull or backward in some. Every effort will be made to encourage progress in those branches with which the pupil is most familiar, as well as to bring him forward in those in which he is deficient.

Visitors are at all times welcomed to the School, and cards stating terms and conditions may be obtained upon application to the subscriber.

HAS added to his extensive establishment a Miniature Steam Engine, for executing the mechanical parts—the first and only application of STEAM POWER to this Art.

This power gives a more perfect, exquisite and sensitive polish to his plates, especially large plates for Groups and Family Pictures; and enables him to make a GREAT IMPROVEMENT on pictures that have been pronounced very perfect.

He received one of the highest premiums for the art at the late Mechanics' Fair. The best judges say his Family and other Groups wholly excell anything of the kind in the Daguerreotype Art. But he very much prefers to have his pictures speak for him, and therefore respectfully invites the public to call, examine and judge for themselves.

Among the Groups, Family and single specimens in his extensive Gallery, may be seen REV. S. BLISS and Family, Hon. Wm. JACKSON and Family of sixteen, Gov. BRIGGS and Council, seated as in their Chamber, and the four Hon. Judges of the Massachusetts Supreme Court as in their seat—with many other distinguished personages.

MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE.

Seven Thousand Policies!

In a Multitude of Insurers there is Safety.

THE MUTUAL BENEFIT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was organized in 1845, in New Jersey, from which State it holds a liberal and perpetual charter. Its affairs are conducted by able and practical business men, who have given it a basis co-extensive with the Northern States, and commanding the confidence of business men in all parts of the country.

Its object has been to secure to the insurers themselves ALL THE PROFITS of a business which joint stock companies of capitalists have found to be exceedingly profitable, and at the same time to make the terms as easy to insurers as could be consistent with perfect safety. In this aim it has received acknowledged and abundant success. It has now existing more than 7,000 policies, with available personal securities and cash investments, all drawing interest, to meet them, amounting to

$800,000,

Within four years it has paid about $250,000 to the representatives, widows or orphans of deceased policy holders, whose claims have always been promptly met, and it has an equal amount of cash capital on hand profitably and securely invested. Its characteristic features are these:

1. Its rates of premium are adequate to provide against the most sweeping mortality, being the same as those of European stock companies, which for generations have promptly paid their losses and divided large profits.
2. All premiums are paid in cash, yearly, quarterly or monthly, at the option of the insured;—but to those taking policies for life, whose premium amounts to $50, one half of the premium, if desired, WILL BE LOANED at 6 per cent., the annual profits payable to the insured being retained as security in part.
3. Policies for life—and no others—share annually the profits of the whole business. To those not indebted to the company for premium, the dividend of profits is payable in script, receivable for premium, or two-thirds of which will at any time be paid in cash; to those indebted for premium, it will be credited against their notes. As the dividend of profits has amounted to 35 per cent. on the net receipts, leaving a large surplus fund.

4. Members incur no liability beyond their premiums.

5. The sum insured on a single life is limited to $10,000.
